

Jackson Creek Middle School

- Located in Bloomington, IN
- Owner: Monroe County Community School Corporation
- 130,000 s.f. new construction
- Project Description: Jackson Creek Middle School reflects the teaching philosophy of “houses” and responds to the topographical characteristics of the site. The two story building can accommodate up to 720 students and is organized into instructional and activity areas. The instructional area comprises three academic houses for the core subjects. The media center, administration, art, and other academic areas are centrally located for easy student access. Adjacent to parking areas and a city park, the activity area includes the gymnasium, cafeteria and auditorium. They are grouped for flexible scheduling and to facilitate extracurricular use.
